-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment of 11/28/05 has been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. As per claim 23.
line 2 of the claim states "at least either one of..." but only gives one option, labeled "(ii) first ..." which is confusing.

Specification

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1, 13, 14, 25, 26 are allowable.
5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

As per Claim 1.

The prior art of record, specifically Visconti (6,876,973) in view of Waytena (5,978,770), does not disclose or fairly teach:

an alternative event information outputting section for outputting first alternative event information on an event substituting for said reservation-needed service;

a reservation managing section for selectively reading out said store information retained in said retaining section and said first alternative event information outputted from said alternative event information outputting section on the basis of said desired service or desired event received in said receiving section;

a transmitting section for transmitting, through a communication network to said user terminal, at least one of said store information and said first alternative event information read out in said reservation managing section;

wherein said reservation managing section, when receiving a reservation from the user terminal updates the store information retained in said retaining section, thereby completing the reservation, and wherein said transmitting section, when the reservation is completed by said reservation managing section, transmits, to the user terminal, second alternative event information, which is different from the reservation-needed service and the first alternative event information and is practicable for a user of the user terminal.

As per Claim 13.

The prior art of record, specifically Visconti (6,876,973) in view of Waytena (5,978,770), does not disclose or fairly teach:

an alternative event information outputting section for outputting alternative event information on an event substituting for said reservation-needed service;

a reservation managing section for selectively reading out said store information retained in said retaining section and said alternative event information outputted from said alternative event information outputting section on the basis of said desired service or desired event received in said receiving section;

a transmitting section for transmitting, through a communication network to said user terminal, at least one of said store information and said first alternative event information read out in said reservation managing section;

an other reservation notifying section which outputs, to said transmitting section, reservation information of a reservation-needed event which needs reservation, out of the alternative event information output from said alternative event information outputting section;

wherein said other reservation information notifying section outputs, to said transmitting section, practicable alternative event information, out of the alternative event information, as practicable event information;

wherein said other reservation information notifying section is made to extract a longest event taking a maximum performance time among events, included in said alternative event information, on the basis of an event end time obtained by adding said waiting time to a performance time to be taken for each of said events, for including the extracted longest event in said practicable event information.

As per Claim 14.

The prior art of record, specifically Visconti (6,876,973) in view of Waytena (5,978,770), does not disclose or fairly teach:

an alternative event information outputting section for outputting first alternative event information on an event substituting for said reservation-needed service;

a reservation managing section for selectively reading out said store information retained in said retaining section and said alternative event information outputted from said alternative event information outputting section on the basis of said desired service or desired event received in said receiving section;

a transmitting section for transmitting, through a communication network to said user terminal, at least one of said store information and said first alternative event information read out in said reservation managing section;

an other reservation notifying section which outputs, to said transmitting section, reservation information of a reservation-needed event which needs reservation, out of the alternative event information output from said alternative event information outputting section;

wherein said other reservation information notifying section outputs, to said transmitting section, practicable alternative event information, out of the alternative event information, as practicable event information;

wherein said other reservation information notifying section is made to extract a longest event taking a maximum performance time among events, included in said alternative event information, on the basis of an event end time obtained by adding said waiting time to a performance time to be taken for each of said events, for including the extracted longest event in said practicable event information and outputting the longest event included in said practicable event information.

As per Claim 25.

The prior art of record, specifically Visconti (6,876,973) in view of Waytena (5,978,770), does not disclose or fairly teach:

a reservation server for outputting at least either one of (i) store information including a reservation-needed service requiring reservation and a reservation information of said reservation-needed service and (ii) first alternative event information on an event substituting for said reservation-needed service to said user terminal, including:

an alternative event information outputting section for outputting first alternative event information;

a reservation managing section for selectively reading out said store information, retained in said retaining section, and said first alternative event information, outputted from said alternative event information outputting section on the basis of the desired service of desired event received in said first receiving section;

wherein said reservation managing section updates the store information retained in said retaining section, thereby accepting a reservation request from a user of the user terminal, and wherein said first transmitting section, when the reservation is accepted by said reservation managing section, transmits second alternative event information, which is different from the reservation-needed service and the first alternative event information and is practicable for a user of the user terminal.

As per Claim 26.

The prior art of record, specifically Visconti (6,876,973) in view of Waytena (5,978,770), does not disclose or fairly teach:

Art Unit: 3639

a first transmitting step in which a reservation server transmits, to a user terminal at least one store information including a reservation-needed service requiring reservation and a reservation information of said reservation-needed service and first alternative event information on an event substituting for said reservation-needed service;

a selecting step in which said reservation server selects at least one of said store information and said first alternative event information on said event substituting for said reservation-needed service, on the basis of the desired service or desired event transmitted in said reserving step;

a second transmitting step in which said reservation server transmits, to said user terminal, said store information or first alternative information selected by said selecting step;

a reservation accepting step in which the reservation server accepts a reservation from a user of the user terminal, when the user makes a reservation based on the store information and the first alternative event information transmitted in said second transmitting step; and a third transmitting step for transmitting, to said user terminal, second alternative event information, which is different from said reservation-needed service and the first alternative event information and is practicable for the user.

The claims that depend from the above allowable claims are allowable for the same reasons.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Thomas A. Dixon whose telephone number is (571) 272-6803. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Thursday 6:30 - 4:00.
